

NBCC STUDENT GOVERNOR ELECTION

What It Means To Be An NBCC Governor

Frequently Asked Questions

Is being a Governor a paid position?

No, a Governor is a volunteer position, but there are many benefits.

The NBCC Board of Governors is collectively responsible and T46 ov Each

The Board of Governors acts as a collective decision-making body. Governors do not have any individual authority to make decisions on behalf of the College. Individual Governors do, however, have legal duties to live up to during their tenure on the Board and are also expected to participate in, and contribute to, the Board's effective and efficient functioning.

You are responsible for attending Board meetings and assigned Committee meetings. You are also responsible for reading materials in preparation for each meeting. You should be prepared to discuss and debate issues with your Board colleagues.

For further information on the expectation of individual Governors, please refer to the document: Information on the Role of the Board of Governors and the Expectations of Individual Governors posted on nbcc.ca.
