

1. Review your post-graduation work permit (PGWP)

- Get the hard copy. You will receive a notice of your PGWP decision on your online Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) account. ~~Copy~~ Copy of your PGWP will be mailed to the address that you provided in your application. If you have not received your PGWP within 6 weeks of the approval, contact IRCC.
- Review the expiry date. If it is shorter than you expected, check your passport expiry date. Do they match? If so, you will need to renew your passport and then renew your PGWP. If you do not know why you received a shorter PGWP, contact IRCC. If you are still uncertain, contact NBCC at international@nbcca.
- Check the conditions. Are there any conditions about the type of work you can engage in?
- Make copies. Make sure you have copies of all of your immigration documents, including your new PGWP. Save digital copies in a secure locations and print copies for your records.

2. Update your Social Insurance Number (SIN)

- Make sure to extend your SIN by visiting a Service Canada location. Follow the same steps as applying for a new SIN. The SIN number will remain the same but will have a new expiry date.

- Apply for a TRV. If you need a TRV, then you will need to apply online and once the application is approved you will need to mail your passport to an IRCC office to have the TRV placed in it. The TRV would be valid for the same duration of time as your PBCC has some TRV application guides available at www.nbcc.ca/immigration
- Apply for an eTA. If you need an eTA, you will submit the application online. You will receive a decision on your application quickly and an eTA will be valid for five years or until passport expiry, whichever comes first.

6. Register as an NBCC Alumni

- How to register as an NBCC Alumni. here. This helps us to keep in touch with you. It is also how we can share any relevant immigration news or immigration information sessions for our international alumni!